Join SNTC’s Growing Staff

Two (2) Training Specialist Positions Open at the Southeastern National Tuberculosis Center (SNTC)

Our center is expanding and we are recruiting for two (2) training specialist positions to round out our training team! Located at the University of Florida in Gainesville, the SNTC is a CDC-funded regional tuberculosis training and medical consultation center serving the Southeastern United States (including Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands). View our website for more information about the SNTC (http://sntc.medicine.ufl.edu).

SNTC currently has two training specialist positions posted as Education and Training Programs Coordinator - 1 and we are looking for two qualified and motivated applicants with a background in TB and a desire to train adult learners. Seasoned TB staff and nurses with a minimum of a bachelors degree are especially encouraged to apply. Salary will be negotiated. Travel throughout the region is required. These training specialist positions are responsible for planning, coordinating and conducting TB-related training throughout the southeast region.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Position postings close on Wednesday, August 30th. Candidates must apply online.

INSTRUCTIONS TO APPLY

Visit the University of Florida Human Resources website at: http://jobs.ufl.edu. Click on View Job Postings/Apply for a Job, then click on TEAMS, click Search and it will list all the jobs available. Locate the coordinator, educational/training programs - 1 positions within the Department of Medicine, Pulmonary Division. Look for and select these job requisition numbers: 037263 and 037265 (Education and Training Programs Coordinator - 1). Visit the URL below for additional information about the University of Florida and Gainesville, Florida: http://www.hr.ufl.edu/.

Contact SNTC if you have questions regarding these positions, call 888-265-7682